CHARITY CHOKER

NINE charities have been left to pick up the pieces after thieves stole thousands of pounds worth of computer equipment.

The haul of more than 14 laptops and other essential items as well as a quantity of cash was taken from the Rainbow Centre in Wych Elm, Harlow, over the Easter weekend.

The raid has left several organisations unable to continue their work out of the centre which has been used as a charity hub for a number of years.

One of those affected was Rainbow Services which helps disadvantaged people through various community projects. It lost all but one of its computers as well as an expensive projector.

Executive director Jackie Sully, who only last week was celebrating her success in gaining funding to keep the service's Re-use scheme running, said: "I feel violated. It is just sickening to think this has been perpetrated on organisations which do good work for the people of Harlow."

"Half of me is angry and the other half wants to weep."

The culprits gained entry to the centre by removing a metal grill and window from the rear of the building. They then ripped alarm sensors from walls before ransacking each room,

Shopping centre ducklings perish

By CHRIS MOSS

moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE company responsible for Harlow's Water Gardens this week insisted it could have done nothing more to prevent the death of five ducklings in ornamental ponds outside the Civic Centre.

The young birds – which have become synonymous with the complex through its advertising campaigns – were found in a half-filled pond on Easter Monday by former veterinary assistant Will Blackman.

He said it appeared no ramps had been put down to help the ducklings get out of the water safely.

"These ducks have been coming back and forth visiting these ponds for years and always have their young here," he said. "It's a disgrace that these ducklings were allowed to die."

"It wouldn't have been much of an effort to put a few ramps down, but it seems that whoever was responsible for cleaning the ponds hadn't bothered."

Edgerley Simpson Howe & Partner operates the development and Water Gardens manager Beryl Murphy insisted her staff had placed wooden planks in the ponds, which had been partially drained for cleaning, but they had been removed.

"We are well aware that ducks often choose to have their young here and we always put planks down to help the ducklings get in and out of the water," she said.

"However, these planks are often removed and chucked around by youngsters who perhaps don't realise what they are there for."

"We also have to deal with other people who think they are doing the right thing by wading into the pond to help the ducklings out, but which often sadly results in the frightened mallard flying off and abandoning her young."

Asked whether Edgerley Simpson Howe & Partner will now consider installing permanent ramps, Ms Murphy confirmed it will consult with the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds regarding possible solutions to the problem.

Diamond days of love

IRIS and Harry Green really do have something to smile about after reaching a landmark 60 years of marriage today (Thursday).

The couple, aged 78 and 79 respectively, met when they attended ballroom dancing lessons as teenagers and married three years later.

Their five children, Gary, Stephanie, Clifford, Vincent and Madeleine, will be treating the pair to a celebratory meal tonight (Thursday).

The couple will then celebrate their diamond anniversary with friends and extended family at a party on Saturday.

Mrs Green, of Northbrooks, Harlow, said: "We have had our ups and downs but we get on and don't argue or anything so we haven't done too badly."

"We are lucky we have a very close family which always mixes together, so that makes us happy."

Majorette sisters take 32 trophies in contest

MAJORETTES Ashley and Megan Trigg twirled their way to victory when they cleaned up at a national competition.

The sisters, from Waterhouse Moor, Harlow, aged 18 and 13 respectively, scooped a whopping 32 trophies between them at the United Kingdom Federation of Majorettes National Championships, held in Sussex last week.

The girls have been training with the other 12 members of the Hoddesdon-based Capricorn Majorettes troupe three times a week for the past three months and their hard work paid off when they scooped accolades including best senior twirler and best junior mace twirler. The troupe as a whole returned with 104 trophies.

trashing some areas and throwing coffee and sugar over the floor.

The centre is used for training volunteers, a conference facility and a community café as well as a base for the nine organisations which help the community of Harlow for no financial reward.

It is hoped insurance will cover the cost of replacing the stolen items. Mrs Sully is trying to negotiate a deal which will see the claims process fast-tracked to allow the groups to get back to work.

But she added: "I just wonder what motivates somebody to do something like this. It seems to me whoever carried this out knew the building and had been in here before."

"If anyone is offered a second-hand laptop I would ask them to think about where it has come from."

Police investigating the raid are hoping footage from a nearby CCTV camera will hold clues to identify the culprits.

Anyone with information about the break-in should call Harlow police on 0300 333444.

Harlow: From an army or temple?

WE return to a recent Nostalgia article on the origins of the place name Harlow.

The meaning behind the name given in P.H. Reaney's The Place Names of Harlow traces its origin to two Saxon words, 'here' and 'hlaw', meaning an army or host on a hill, being combined. However, Stan Newens has written to say he believes the name of our town was in fact derived from a different meaning. "I believe the origin to be 'hearg' (a heathen temple) and 'hlaw' (a mound or a hill), ie, a temple on a mound or hill, which is much more meaningful, as the remains of a Roman (previously Iron Age) temple on a mound still exist along River Way in Harlow - part of our precious heritage," he writes.

"It would almost certainly have been visible in Saxon times.

"Harrow-on-the-Hill is derived from 'heorg'; Harrowden (Bedfordshire), Little Harle and Kirkharle (Northumberland) have a similar origin. Why not 'hearg hlau', becoming Harlow?

"The Anglo Saxon word 'haere' or 'here' (an army) is very similar to 'haerh',

'haerg' or 'hearth' (a temple) and it does not make sense to postulate 'an army on a hill' without some historical evidence when there is a much more obvious derivation of Harlow's name."

Do you agree with Mr Newens or do you have other ideas as to the origins of Harlow's name? Write to Nostalgia at 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW.

Building may be laboratory

By
LOUISE SASSOON

DOZENS of you have written in to tell us the whereabouts and origins of a mystery building whose picture we recently published.

However, the correspondence has generated a number of conflicting answers so here are a few of the best for readers to mull over.

One lady said the building was the Eastern Electricity Board building which used to be at Pinnacles, where she worked as a draughtswoman in about 1973.

Another correspondent told us the building was on the SmithKlineBeecham site - now GlaxoSmithKline - known as H17, which opened about 1979.

He had fond memories of when it opened and said it was a large research facility often described as the Palace of Varieties.

"The opening celebrations were shamelessly exuberant: a large marquee housed a fantastic sit-down banquet for all the staff and we were served by the chaps from the maintenance department dressed in drag as waitresses, with beards and hairy legs! I still work for GSK 30 years later."

But David Hall and another reader names the building as a SmithKlineBeecham laboratory in the company's north site, in Coldharbour Road, which is thought to have been built about the late 1980s or early '90s.

"The building featured in the former Neurology Centre of Excellence for Drug Discovery building," wrote a former employee.

"I believe it was built to house the expanding staff/labs at Harlow in the north-east corner of the site. Until 2001, when SmithKlineBeecham merged with Glaxo Wellcome, the building was used to house neuroscience research and synthetic chemistry.

"After the merger, the building was gutted and refurbished to accommodate new labs, write-up areas and offices for the newly formed Neurology Centre of Excellence for Drug Discovery. "In 2008, GSK began an extensive period of reorganisation and Neurology was merged with Psychiatry to form a new CEDD called Neuroscience. In September 2008, 150 former neurology staff were made redundant and it was the intention to mothball the building, as the remaining staff transferred to Science Complex 1 on the north site."

MUSIC SCHOOLS AXED

Only three of Harlow's eight music schools will remain open from the autumn. Essex County Council's education sub-committee took the decision after deciding three music schools would be enough to cover the town.

BATTLE DATE FIXED

May 25 has been set as the date for the High Court battle between Harlow Council and environment secretary Patrick Jenkins. The council is claiming £10m compensation for remedying defects to former New Towns Commission houses in the new town.

PEACE MARCH

Harlow CND is joining a seven-mile peace march from the head quarters of US Air Force Mildenhall, Suffolk to Lakenheath bomber base. It is part of an Easter peace pilgrimage organised by Christian groups.

BEWARE: DUD £50 NOTES

Police warned traders to be on the look-out after counterfeit £50 notes were found in Harlow, Epping and surrounding villages over the holiday weekend. Police say 14 notes changed hands in Harlow, plus another seven in Epping and three more in Nazeing.

Probe fails to find cause of aircraft crash

AN investigation into an incident in which the front wheel of a light aircraft collapsed on landing at North Weald Airfield has failed to determine the cause of the failure.

The 43-year-old pilot of the 1969 Piper escaped unhurt in the crash on October 4 last year. The aircraft was left with a damaged nose leg, cowling and propeller.

An Air Accident Investigation Branch report released last week stated the aircraft had come from Southend and the pilot, who had 649 hours of flying experience, told investigators that three green lights indicated all three wheels on the aircraft were locked in the landing position.

Shortly after the nose wheel contacted the runway, the nose landing gear leg collapsed and the propeller and front cowling hit the ground, bringing the plane to a halt.

However, the report fails to identify a cause for the failure of the wheel, but does state the pilot had experienced severe turbulence during the flight – so bad that at one stage he hit his head on the roof.

It also reports that there was a minor fault with a hydraulic piston and that this and late selection of the landing gear were other factors which may have been contributory factors to the accident.

Regeneration project a step nearer reality

Pitbulls strike along canal path

A WOMAN was left shaken after two pitbulls leapt from a barge moored on the River Stort and savagely attacked her pet dog.

Chantelle Dyson (27), from Bishop's Stortford, was walking her four-year-old cocker spaniel Reggie along the Harlow canal path just yards from the Moorhen pub when the unleashed dogs pounced.

As one of the pitbulls pinned her dog down, the other bit into its neck, causing a severe puncture wound.

Reggie needed stitches and two courses of antibiotics, and a furious Miss Dyson has now been hit with a £160 vet's bill.

"It all happened so quickly," said Miss Dyson. "We were just walking along the towpath when these two pitbulls jumped off a boat and started attacking Reggie."

"I was screaming for help and tried to find the dogs' owners, but they were nowhere to be seen. Eventually the dogs laid off and ran away, but poor Reggie was left in a right state."

"I think it's disgusting that these vicious animals were left off their leash and completely unsupervised – the owners should be the ones paying the vet's bill."

"Supposing I'd been walking along the path with my young nephew? It doesn't bear thinking about, what they could have done to him."

An Essex Police spokeswoman said: "Dog-on-dog attacks are not a crime. However, it is an offence to fail to keep a dog under proper control and this matter is being looked into."

Bogus caller alert

POLICE are warning residents about a bogus Three Valleys Water engineer operating in the Kingsmoor area of Harlow.

Several householders have been approached in recent weeks, by the man asking to check their water supply.

Worried residents should visit the website at www.3valleys.co.uk/i-am-vulnerable.aspx for details about dealing with bogus callers.

A MAJOR redevelopment project to transform a retail area into the 'heart of Harlow' could become reality in just four years.

Developers are this week on the brink of signing a crucial legal agreement with Harlow Council which will see the wheels finally roll on the regeneration of Harlow town centre north and concrete plans drawn up for the scheme.

The first phase could be started as early as 2011, with a major food store, department store, restaurants, shops and hundreds of homes among the ideas mooted for the area around Market Square.

A hotel, office space, a new library and bus station are also earmarked for possible inclusion in the scheme, which is hoped to transform the area in to a bustling leisure quarter with a revitalised, revamped market.

Stockland was appointed as the preferred developer to take on the project last year but it has taken months to get to the stage where a deal can be formally struck which will legally contract it into delivering the project.

By LOUISE SASSOON

News Editor

sassoonl@hertssexnews.co.uk

Once the deal is signed in the next few days, formal plans will be drawn up followed by a far-reaching consultation exercise with a view to submitting a planning application by early next year.

If plans are agreed, it is thought some shops will open by 2012 and the entire redevelopment finished by 2014.

The cost will be met by the developers, with help from a Government regeneration grant and contributions from partner agencies.

Speaking about the project, council leader Andrew Johnson said: "I'm really excited by the whole thing, especially at a time when a lot of town regeneration projects are not happening because of the financial climate. I want the area to be the heart of Harlow."

Harlow Renaissance chief executive Andrew Bramidge added: "We are tremendously excited by this. This really is good news for Harlow."

tower over the May Bank Holiday weekend to raise cash for good causes.

Hoping her efforts will raise hundreds of pounds for the Parkinson's Disease Society, she has little to fear from the scale of the challenge – a climb of 110 steps to the top of the tower and then a 110ft descent.

"If I can climb Mount Snowden – and that nearly killed me – I'm sure I can take on this for a few minutes," she said. "It should be good but I will be glad when it is over.

"I am sort of looking forward to it, the dangling in mid air is the bit that frightens me but the abseiling down I'm fine with. I wouldn't mind a mattress at the bottom, though, just in case!"

Explaining why she has chosen to raise money for the PDS, she said: "My friend's dad had it and sadly died last year. It is quite hard work looking after someone who has Parkinson's and that is why I want to raise money for this charity as it helps support people affected by the disease."

The annual abseil has been organised by Harlow Tye Rotary Club for the past 11 years.

Organisers have their fingers crossed that this year's event will raise in excess of £50,000, bringing the total raised to more than £500,000.

It takes place on Saturday, May 2 and Sunday, May 3. Anyone wanting to sponsor Mrs Weirich can email her at superashley89@btinternet.com.

Fitness course aims to target young people

YOUNG couch potatoes are being encouraged to shed their sedentary ways and become active by signing up to a 10-week programme aimed at turning around their lifestyles.

The Harlow and Epping Mind, Exercise, Nutrition, Do it...! team want overweight seven to 13 year-olds, as well as their parents or carers, to take part in the course which is designed to improve their fitness and give them a better understanding of food.

Both the Harlow and Epping courses run on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6-8pm, starting next week.

The Harlow course will be held at Mark Hall School, in First Avenue, while the Epping course is at St John's School, in Tower Road.

NHS West Essex MEND organiser Rebecca Margetts said: "The programme is a proven way to help young people lead a healthier lifestyle, increase self-esteem and confidence and improve behaviour. It also demonstrates that getting fit can be fun as youngsters on previous courses have found out."

For further information or to book a free place, contact Rebecca on (01279) 827238, send her an email to rebecca.margetts@westessexpct.nhs.uk or log onto www.mendprogramme.org.

Runners raise hospice funds

MORE than 650 runners took part in a 10k race in aid of St Clare Hospice.

The event saw the biggest turnout in its 15-year history, raising more than £10,000.

First across the finishing line was Christian Bloomfield in a time of 32m 24s while Sharon Gammon was the first woman in a time of 37m 59s.

"It was fantastic to see so many runners lined up for the start, all taking part for different reasons including quite a few who have experienced the care we provide and wanted to do their bit to give something back," said hospice event fundraiser Tracy Meale.

RAFA meetings

Pizza Hut staff serve up cash for baby unit

STAFF at a pizza restaurant swapped their normal working clothes for pyjamas when they took part in a charity fun day in aid of the special care baby unit at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital.

More than a dozen employees at Pizza Hut in the Water Gardens dressed in their bedtime gear for the occasion which saw them raise more than £200 for the unit.

Restaurant manager Sarah Horsley, said: "Everybody was extremely supportive of the day."

Flat owner's fury at service charge hike

A HOMEOWNER has criticised the housing association responsible for cleaning and maintaining the block of flats in which she lives for more than doubling its service charge in just one year.

Elisha Bird (22), of Mill Court, Harlow, was shocked when she received a letter from Moat Housing Association informing her that the monthly fee was set to rocket from £70 to £151.

By CHRIS MOSS
moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

To make matters worse, she complained the service provided by the association fell below the standard she would have expected for the charge, claiming the lift reeked of urine and regularly broke down while communal walls were often covered with graffiti.

However, when she contacted Moat to query her bill she was told it would cost her £150 to launch an inquiry.

"I immediately contacted Moat to ask why the charge had shot up by so much but no-one could give me a straight answer," she told the Star.

"I was eventually told I'd have to pay to find out why. It's ridiculous."

"The old monthly fee was pushing it already considering the state the block always seems to be in, but now it has more than doubled I'm really going to struggle to pay it every month."

A spokeswoman for the housing association refused to comment specifically on Miss Bird's situation but claimed the increase in the service charge reflected the fact that residents had been undercharged last year.

"Last year we charged our customers a lower cost for the provision of services," she said. "As a result we recognise that this year we have increased residents' service charge demands from last year."

"Our plan is to review the costs of all our managing agents to make sure that residents' service charges are affordable. In the meantime, where there is hardship we encourage residents to contact us directly."

Fewer retailers flout law on alcohol sales to underage drinkers

SALES of alcohol to youngsters under the legal age limit have fallen dramatically in Harlow during the past 12 months.

Latest figures show the town is performing better than the county average for adhering to the laws governing the sale of intoxicating drinks.

But still 11 per cent of retailers flouted the rules when county trading standards officials carried out spot checks during 2008-09. That compared to a failure rate of 31 per cent in 2007-08.

County councillor Tracey Chapman, cabinet member for environment and waste said: "This shows Essex County Council's commitment to tackling underage drinking and anti-social behaviour. However, our work does not stop here and we will continue to crack down on any retailers who choose to ignore our warnings."

Trading standards teams will continue the test purchase programme using underage volunteers and any retailers caught breaking the law will be issued with a penalty notice and could face prosecution.

Chocs away for town Easter hunts

THERE was no shortage of egg-citement for youngsters in Harlow over the weekend with Easter-themed fun on offer all around the town.

Dozens of children descended on Parndon Wood Nature Reserve on Sunday to look for hidden treasure during an Easter egg hunt.

The previous day the Harvey Centre hosted an Easter arts workshop and bunny hunt to keep youngsters busy while their parents went shopping.

The children made Easter-themed masks before they searched the centre for ten fluffy bunnies which were displayed in shop windows.

Harvey Centre manager Bryan Young said: "We really enjoyed hosting the workshops which are always hugely popular with our customers and their children."

"It is great to see their delight when they find all the bunnies hiding in the shops and get their little chocolate reward."

Let's see if voters support these cuts

SIR, I would like to inform the 2,130 people who signed our petition to stop the cutbacks at the Leah Manning Centre what is happening.

We handed in the petition on April 1, hoping that we could present it to a full council meeting at the end of this month. But it seems that democracy has been thwarted as the council stated that this was to be a special meeting and the annual meeting was not until May.

As there was no time to hear the petition, we may not be able to present it until June or even July.

I must say that after the protests the council is arranging for myself and a few of our committee to meet with representatives to discuss what can be done. We will meet with them but it seems that the new administration motto is "money before people".

I am not sure what we can achieve. One of the problems with today's politicians, whether in Westminster or in local government, is they all appear to have their snouts in the expenses trough.

We have had many cuts to services which have been lifelines to thousands of people, the Leah Manning Centre being a shining example. So I issue this challenge to the members of the council who are pushing through these cuts before next year's council elections – if you are so certain that what you are doing is on behalf of the Harlow electorate and that they are backing you all the way, show some courage by resigning your seats and standing in by-elections. If you are re-elected then you know you are doing the right thing.

Personally I am sure that you will not do this because you value your expenses more than you value the people of Harlow.

Advice service is a voice for the people

SIR, I wonder just how much time and the town's money the present council has spent in attempting to bring about the closure of the Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice service.

If you add the legal costs, the time plus the likely costs of redundancy, it must be far more than what the council claims to be saving.

Is it true councillors were poorly advised in the first place? Did our well-paid council officers and legal advisors not realise they were overlooking the interests of the most disadvantaged. Do they not know the council's legal requirement as far as "due regard" goes or was there an alternative agenda?

HWRA must have been a thorn in the side of the council. Many of the actions of this service helped Harlow people gain their rights from the council. It's one reason why I think a lot of – and owe a lot to – the advice centre. They are fearless in their attempts to defend ordinary people's interests.

I'm old enough to remember many publicly funded organisations which, once they got their funding, rarely bit the hand that fed them. I congratulate HWRA on never being so tempted.

Will our councillors forego parking perk?

SIR, I would be amazed if councillors had the nerve to reclaim parking expenses at the Water Garden when attending meetings at the Civic Centre (Star, April 9).

It is not that many years ago that councillors were elected because they wanted to serve Harlow as free volunteers, not for any nice little earners whether or not they attend meetings or serve their constituents.

There are hundreds of volunteers in Harlow who spend many hours, some well in excess of that put in by some councillors, throughout the year including magistrates who do not get paid.

Payment to councillors is now well in excess of £100,000 per year. Just think what could be done

Budget crisis is the Government's fault

SIR, Critical though I am of Conservative priorities in the Harlow Council budget for 2009/10, it must be admitted that the real problems occur because of the Labour government's underfunding of local government.

At a public meeting attended by Conservative council leader Simon Carter at the Civic Centre, I asked him if he would agree with this and he affirmed that he did, especially in the rebate the council had to pay central government on rents and the loss of the business rate, which of course was a

Thatcher innovation.

I went on to request assurances from him that the Tories locally would press for increases and reform from any incoming Conservative government and this he confirmed.

So what about Labour? Will they press for such reform and why, with a Government minister as our MP, has local government been starved of finance despite the assurances given before they were elected? They appear to favour pouring money into quangos and non-elected bodies which have proliferated during their administration and created a lottery based society.

As for the Liberal Democrats, they advocate local income tax which would at least ensure that local government would be fairer and that the poor paid less and the rich more.

Are they still committed to this approach and will they introduce it if they form part of a national government and demand it from any party seeking their support?

with this money for the benefit of the town.

How many councillors, knowing just how cash strapped we are, will now forego this perk?

Tenants don't want new-style rent card

SIR, Harlow Council has again surpassed itself by claiming that it consulted tenants on the introduction of the "new" rent card.

Was anyone consulted about this change from a standard paper-based card that contained the full details of your charges and payments to a credit card-style card that basically only contains your name and account number. The answer is, of course, no. This council never consults on important issues such as this.

Therefore, could I suggest Star readers are very careful about keeping receipts because if you lose them and the council's system goes down you could become liable for any shortfall on your account.

Other than that your could always pay by cheque. That would impress this council.

Wrong location for this type of facility

SIR, I have grave concerns regarding the conversion of Passmores House into a residential care home for drug and alcohol dependent individuals.

While I do not dispute the need for such care homes, I do dispute the location that has been chosen for this one in particular. Passmores House, on Third Avenue, is located on a frequently used cycle path and footpath which is a main route to the town centre.

I do not understand why a place such as this would be located in such an isolated area. The area in question is used by many people who would be vulnerable to such a place and its individuals.

I know that what I am implying may not be politically correct but come on, who in their right mind would give the go-ahead for this? A location away from public areas altogether would be a start. Next to the police station would be even better.

FA's points penalty is far too harsh

SIR, I have always felt that Football Association is a flawed organisation. Look at the millions spent on Sven Goran Ericsson's contract and the failure of Steve McClaren, let alone the shenanigans that went on at FA headquarters between various senior employees.

My view about the FA was confirmed when I heard last week that it is to dock points from Harlow Town FC for fielding an ineligible player in their match against Wealdstone earlier in the year (Star Sport, April 9).

This was an innocent mistake by the club as they had been told by an official that the player was in fact eligible to play.

This stupid judgement will cost the team much-needed points as they are battling hard not to be relegated.

Instead of hammering smaller clubs for minor errors, how about reforming themselves for a change, stop wasting money and ensure that England reach the finals of the major tournaments?

Harlow Conservative prospective MP

Driven to despair by new road markings

SIR, Are the road planners at Essex County Council having a laugh? I am talking about the new arrows that have been painted on most of the roundabouts in Harlow.

Who decided that the left hand lane would be for left hand turns only? Ridiculous! Take the Larkswood roundabout for example; traffic travelling along the A414 towards London has always used the left hand lane and traffic turning right would use the right hand lane.

Now someone at County Hall has changed it for some unknown reason after years of normal signage. Traffic still uses the left hand lane to travel straight on which is the normal set up in other areas of Essex and Hertfordshire.

The few drivers that follow the arrows just cause more congestion and frustrate other motorists that use the old system. Is this unique to Harlow? Or maybe it's an experiment to see how to mess up traffic completely. The sooner they re-instate the old road markings the better.

C. Simons
Larkswood, Harlow

Restore bus links as part of this upgrade

SIR, As a public transport user I very much welcome the news of a £14m upgrade of local transport links (Star, April 2).

Let us hope that this will include the reintroduction of the daytime Arriva bus services to Harlow Town station and the town station/hospital link, both of which have inconvenienced many hundreds of people in the past few months.

Trust acquires ambulances to aid obese

NEW ambulances designed to deal with Britain's growing levels of obesity have been introduced throughout Essex.

The East of England Ambulance Service NHS Trust is now using 50 new ambulances capable of carrying heavier patients.

A further 60 of the vehicles, which have a maximum weight capacity of almost 79 stone (500kg), will come into use by the end of March next year.

A Trust spokeswoman said: "This vehicle also comes with a broader tail lift to assist accessibility and moving patients with a larger body mass index."

Currently, the trust's tail lift vehicles have a maximum weight capacity of just under 56 stone (350kg). Equipment for patients weighing as much as 25 stone (159kg) is also used by the trust.

The spokeswoman added: "Most of the equipment we purchase covers a general and regular range of weights from, say, 20-25 stone (127-159kg).

"There may be the odd piece of equipment with a slightly higher tolerance but, in the main, this is what we are geared up for in terms of manual handling equipment.

"While the equipment is important, it necessarily comes lower down the hierarchy of system development and must be fit for the system/patient's purpose, not the other way around."

In the UK, 25 per cent of adults are now considered obese because they have a body mass index of greater than 30.

Wary mum thwarts internet bank scam

ONLINE FRAUD: Kym Mace with the two bogus certificates she was sent by the email scam artist (photo: KNCRV2WM/02)

A WOMAN targeted by an internet scam has warned other web users to be wary of hoax emails which appear to have been sent by a major High Street bank.

Kym Mace (44), of Milwards, Harlow, was bombarded with emails from a man claiming to be the head of telegraphic transfers at HSBC, telling her she had won £1.3m in an online lottery run by software giant Microsoft.

Congratulating the bewildered mum-of-two on her "winnings", the hoaxer requested her home address, bank account number and sort code.

He also advised her that she would have to pay the bank a "mandatory handling charge" of £337.50 before receiving her prize.

When Mrs Mace replied to the emails asking for more information and proof of her win, the con artist promptly sent her two crudely fabricated certificates.

Catching on to the hoax before parting with any money, Mrs Mace is now keen to alert others to the potential risk.

"I've been targeted before by different email scams, but the worrying thing about this one was the hoaxer's persistence and the fact he was using the bank's real address and logos," she said.

"I even threatened to call the police but he just emailed me straight back to say he would be happy to speak to police officers as he had nothing to hide.

"I'm just worried about the more vulnerable people out there who may well fall for something like this, especially when the con-man is so determined."

A HSBC spokeswoman said the bank was aware of hoaxers using its name and logos in fraudulent emails and urged wariness.

"HSBC will never ask you to provide your account number, pin, password or sort code via email," she said.

"Unfortunately, there are thousands of people all over the world sending out similar hoax emails every day and it is very difficult for our fraud department to prevent this from happening, although we will investigate any cases we are made aware of."

Town brand to help promote a positive image

A BRANDING exercise designed to get rid of Harlow's negative image is to be fully rolled out over the next few weeks.

Harlow Renaissance has met with business bosses and partners to persuade them to use the slogan 'Harlow – see something different' on branding and literature.

And it appears most contacts will be pleased to go along with the idea, which is hoped will change perceptions of the town and bring in new business and tourism.

Renaissance chief executive Andrew Bramidge said: "For businesses in particular, this is important as they often find it difficult to recruit staff because of people's preconceived ideas of what Harlow is.

"If we can all collectively instigate a better image of the town, there will be far-reaching benefits."

Hats entertainment for Easter fun

EASTER was celebrated throughout Harlow as children took part in an array of colourful activities to mark the holiday.

Pupils at THE DOWNS strutted their stuff and posed in handmade hats and bonnets for an Easter bonnet parade.

Meanwhile, youngsters at KIDDI CARU nursery, in Church Langley Way, made their Easter headwear during a fun-packed day in which they also made painted footprints and other creations to show off at their Easter parade.

GATEWAY nursery children played games and enjoyed chocolate eggs at their Easter-themed day, in which they also made bonnets.

And LEAPFROG day nursery held an Easter eggs-travaganza with a cake stall, raffle and Easter hats as part of a themed fundraising day for Cystic Fibrosis.

School cooks up a tribute for Sheila

MARK HALL: Dinner lady Sheila Fretwell donned her chef's hat for the last time before retiring after 16 years of service in the school kitchen.

Staff and pupils gave the catering stalwart a send-off to remember when she was treated to a special assembly in which she was handed flowers in thanks for her dedicated work.

Catering manager Tracey Bain said her colleague will be dearly missed, adding: "Sheila is the last of the old-fashioned dinner ladies. We as a kitchen will surely miss her."

"She has been like our mum, giving us advice on raising our young families and other things."

Stewards among UK's most improved

STEWARDS: Staff and pupils are celebrating after the school was named one of the most improved in the country.

The Specialist Schools and Academies Trust held a celebration dinner at The Royal College of Physicians to recognise those schools which have significantly improved their GCSE results. The Trust recognised that the improvement in results at Stewards has been both significant and maintained over a number of years. Headteacher Rhonda Murthar said: "I am very proud of the achievements of students at the school."

The king who kept on growing

MANY of you will know from your school history books that King Henry VIII was a larger than life character, but a new exhibition of his armour shows how plump the portly Tudor monarch actually became.

The lavish medieval banquets Henry enjoyed during his 38-year reign clearly took their toll on his waistline, which had ballooned from a slender 34ins (86.5cm) when he took the throne at the age of 23 to a massive 51ins (129.5cm) as he neared the end of his life.

The size of his expanding waist has been calculated by historians who put together the exhibition of his armour and weapons which are now on display at the Tower of London to mark the 500th anniversary of his ascendancy to the throne in 1509.

The sheer weight of the extravagant armour he used to wear is just as remarkable as the king's girth, with combat armour made for 28-year-old Henry weighing in at an incredible 42.7kg

But despite his massive frame, the king was a keen sportsman in his youth. His football, made from an inflated pig's bladder covered in leather, is also on show in the exhibition.

Another exhibit is Henry's specially-made suit of armour designed for a prestigious jousting tournament in France. It was considered so innovative by space scientists in America that they incorporated some of its features into the design of the first space suits for their astronauts in the 1960s.

Crack team sign up to paint town pink

MORE and more teams are signing up to take part in St Clare Hospice's Midnight Walk.

The latest group of ladies to add their name to the list are The Jacobs Crackers, a team of clinical, care and administrative staff who work in the Jacobs Centre at the Ramsay Health Care, High Wych.

"We have a colleague who is currently having chemotherapy for bowel cancer and it makes you think," said team member Lorraine Rogers.

Assistant clinical manager Jayne Jackson added: "Some of us have lost family members and friends and we understand the work that the hospice does because of what we do here.

"We have worked alongside St Clare at times and we understand palliative care."

The Jacob Crackers are looking forward to the big night and already have some ideas about what they will be wearing. "We're planning what our themed look is going to be for the night. At the moment we're going for cowboy hats with crackers hanging from them," said Jayne.

Event organiser Tracy Meale said: "This is what the Midnight Walk is all about. We want to see teams of people signing up, getting excited about what they're going to wear and having lots of fun on the night.

"We also hope that their colleagues will sponsor them lots for doing it as we have to raise over £1.75m every year to provide our care to the community.

"Already we have over 300 walkers signed up to take part and more entries flooding in every day, but if anyone has been thinking about taking part or getting a team together, sign up as soon as possible!"

This year's Midnight Walk is set to be even bigger and more pink than last year! A lot more is being planned to entertain walkers before they set off and there will be team prizes for the most sponsorship raised and other challenges.

Local firm Raytheon have kindly donated two cases of pink Champagne as team prizes.

"If you are able to do it, take part, sign up it's a great cause," said Lorraine. "You never know when you or someone you know may need St Clare Hospice care. Everyone should do it."

WHEN: Saturday, June 20. The pre-walk fun starts at 10.30pm.

WHERE: The Water Gardens car park in Harlow town centre. The walk will then follow a 10-kilometre circular route along the town's streets and cycle paths.

WHO: The Midnight Walk is open to women and men aged 14 and over, Children aged 14 and 15 must be accompanied by a responsible adult who is registered to take part in the walk. Only guide dogs and hearing dogs are permitted to take part.

HOW: To register online, visit www.stclare-hospice.co.uk and follow the Midnight Walk link. # WIN A family weekend break

WITH the promise of some better weather now that Spring is here, people's thoughts are turning to booking holidays.

This year many of us will be choosing the UK instead of heading abroad. And with that in mind, the Star has teamed up with Innkeeper's Lodge to celebrate the great British getaway by giving away two family weekend breaks.

The great thing about staying away is escaping domestic drudgery, but the drawback is missing your home comforts. However, at Innkeeper's Lodge the rooms are more like a home-from-home with Sky TV, free toiletries and a parking space outside.

Warm, friendly and safe, you'll find Innkeeper's Lodge rooms are so comfortable you're sure to get a good night's sleep and wake up ready to face the busiest of days. Relax, refresh and recharge — that's the motto of Innkeeper's Lodge.

Innkeeper's Lodges are tremendous value because family rooms can accommodate up to four guests and the delicious continental breakfast buffet is always complimentary. What's more, you'll find that all Innkeeper's Lodges are conveniently located near great pubs or restaurants.

Our great prize is a family room for up to four people at any of the 80 Innkeeper's Lodges in the UK*, with accommodation on either Friday and Saturday or Saturday and Sunday nights.

All you have to do to stand a chance of winning is answer the simple question in the coupon on the right and follow the entry instructions. Alternatively, you can enter via our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk by clicking on 'Competitions' in the Lifestyle section. Under competition name enter 'Harlow Star/Innkeeper's Lodge'.

Terms and Conditions

The prize is as described and there is no cash alternative. Breaks must be taken at Innkeeper's Lodges by the end of August. Accommodation is subject to availability. Travel not included.

* Some lodges may be excluded — please ask for details

INNKEEPER'S LODGE COMPETITION

Question: How many Innkeeper's Lodges are there in the UK?

a) 70 b) 80 c) 90

Hip Hop Pop breaks out new moves at theatre

BUDDING body-poppers can now get their groove on all week long after dance school Hip Hop Pop took up a full-time residency at The Playhouse.

The successful dance troupe will now offer 19 classes a week in everything from street and break dancing to street tap and hip-hop-ercise for students of all abilities aged three and upwards.

The residency will also enable the school to stage more of its productions at the theatre; last month it put on an ambitious adaptation of Rent – The Musical.

Producer and choreographer

Jenny Bater said she had been eager to expand the dance school for some time.

"Hip Hop Pop's reputation and popularity is at such a high level in the local area – to be able to open up its doors to a multitude of styles and offer even more of the local community the opportunity to learn these great dance styles is a fantastic achievement," she said.

"Our current students also deserve the chance to learn other dance styles such as break dance and have the opportunity to perform more." Visit www.hiphoppop.co.uk for more details or call Jenny on 07947 477655.

Fine Nutcracker accessible for all

REVIEW

THE NUTCRACKER

Harlow Ballet, The Playhouse, Harlow

THE talented members of Harlow Ballet Association dazzled with a triumphant Easter adaptation of one of the world's greatest ballets.

Tchaikovsky's The Nutcracker tells the story of a young girl, Clara, who is given a charming wooden nutcracker one Christmas Eve, only for her new toy to transform into a dashing prince and transport her to a magical dream-world.

After saving the prince from the clutches of the evil King Rat, she is taken on a hallucinatory journey to the magical Land of Sweets and Snow, but then wakes from her sleep and realises her fantastical journey had merely been a dream.

Impressive soloists wowed the audience with their individual talents while the energetic group dances made such good use of The Playhouse's intimate thrust stage that it left the audience often torn as to where to look.

An animated fight scene between the Nutcracker Prince (Paul Tarling) and King Rat (Joel Goodman) showed off both dancers' impressive skills perfectly and particularly impressed, while the adorable little dolls in the first act – played by budding ballerinas from the age of three upwards – added a cute factor with their infectious smiles.

But it was the Snow Queen (the sublime Rosie Menhinick) who really stole the show, and when she completed her impressive routine high on her toes to deafening cheers and whistles it was a fitting reception to a fabulous individual performance.

I left the theatre reflecting on the ignorance of anyone who claims ballet is the preserve of the upper classes. Harlow Ballet Association has once again proved it can be accessible, enjoyable and entertaining for all.

Dramatic season in the sun

THE Playhouse has unveiled a summer season of theatre, comedy, music and film.

Highlights in the coming months include a comedy reworking of Shakespeare's finest play in Ha-Ha-Hamlet on May 20, the chance to spend a night with the king of rock 'n' roll courtesy of acclaimed Elvis impersonator Lee 'Memphis' King, pictured right, from May 22-23, and a kids' trip to The Boogie Woogie Zoo on May 30.

Infamous British film director Ken Russell is joined by good friend and fellow bon viveur Humphrey Burton on May 31 to talk about his work, while none other than The Wurzels, pictured above, will be firing up their combine harvesters and ploughing into town on June 20.

The latter part of the season will be dedicated to Musical Mania, the venue's first major musical theatre course which culminates in four public performances in the main auditorium in August.

Details on all shows and Musical Mania are available online at www.playhouseharlow.com or by calling (01279) 431945.

Hitman Chev's keeping up with current affairs

CRANK: HIGH VOLTAGE
certificate 18, running time 1h36m

IN the 2006 action hit Crank, Brit hitman Chev Chelios (Jason Statham) spent 24 hours in overdrive, fighting, running and killing to keep his adrenaline flowing at full tilt to counter a deadly poison injected into his body.

Now he takes off again in a high-octane sequel, with a whole new challenge and a new but equally deadly handicap.

Picking up immediately from where the first movie left off, Crank: High Voltage finds Chev surviving the climactic plunge to his almost certain death on the streets of LA, only to be kidnapped by a mysterious Chinese mobster.

Three months later, he awakes to discover his nearly indestructible heart has been surgically removed and replaced by a battery-operated ticker that needs regular jolts of juice to keep working.

After a dangerous escape from his captors, Chev is on the run again, this time from charismatic Mexican gang boss El Huron (Clifton Collins Jr) and the Chinese triads, headed by the dangerous 100-year-old elder poon Dong (Mr Kung Fu himself, David Carradine).

Once again turning to Doc Miles (Dwight Yoakum) for medical advice, receiving help from his friend Kaylo's twin brother Venus (Efren Ramirez) and reconnecting with his girlfriend (Amy Smart), who's no longer in the dark about what he does for a living, Chev sets out determined to get his real heart back and take revenge on those who parted him from it.

Thus begins an electrifying chase through LA where anything goes to stay alive and Chev's jump leads are never far from hand.

The dilemma of friendships and fiancées

I LOVE YOU, MAN
certificate 15, running time 1h45m

IN this new comedy from co-writer/director John Hamburg, Peter Klaven (Paul Rudd) is a successful real estate agent with no close male buddies.

It's not such a big problem for him until he gets engaged to the girl of his dreams, Zooe (Rashida Jones) and realises, to his dismay, he's got nobody close enough to call on to serve as his best man come the big day.

Peter immediately embarks on a series of bizarre and socially awkward 'man-dates' in the hope of finding someone who can become his closest friend.

As luck would have it, he stumbles across Sydney Fife (Jason Segal), a fun-loving, charismatic type who's his perfect opposite and perfect chum.

The two bond instantly, but the closer the pair of them get, the more Peter's relationship with Zooe comes under strain.

Ultimately, he's forced to choose between his fiancée and his newfound bro' in a story exploring what's at the core of male friendships and what it truly means to be a friend.

Maybe it'd be better if the 'best buds' just went and got a room ...

WHAT does prog rock mean to you? Rick Wakeman's Vishnu-like ability to simultaneously play six keyboards at once? Gong's extensive on-stage use of, er, gongs? Marillion's Fish prancing around in a jester's costume? The obsessively Medieval lyricism of Wishbone Ash? Or maybe you dig the cacophonous jazz-metal noodlings of The Mars Volta?

Whatever your thoughts and preconceptions of the much (and often unfairly) maligned genre, remove your earplugs, open your mind and usher in the sublime, sophisticated surrealism of Sundial Cities.

These three modern day progolytes are perhaps the best thing to happen to your prog-wary ears since Traffic's beautifully bizarre Mr Fantasy – spookily, frontman Alex Chenery's grizzled growl sounds remarkably similar to a certain Mr Winwood. With talk of mountaintops, bleak winters, holes in the ocean and dead kings, they likewise get full marks for mad-as-a-bag-of-eels lyrical esotericism, while the likes of El Matador and Sirens show off the sort of taut musicianship and effortless interplay for which most bands would give their drummer's right arm.

Having battled through to the semi-finals of The Square's mammoth Rock Contest, the obscenely young and gifted trio will return to these parts on April 23.

Worthy cult reputation set in Stone

STONE: 2-DISC SPECIAL EDITION
(Severin Films, 18, retail)

For a low-budget exploitation movie shot in 1974, Stone has had a long reach.

Like an angrier Easy Rider, the film kick-started Australia's exploitation boom and is still celebrated to this day with massed biker rallies; it was also a big influence on Mad Max (which featured several of Stone's bikers, including Hugh 'The Toecutter' Keayes-Byrne and Vincent 'The Nightrider' Gil).

Biker gang The Grave Diggers cruise by an anti-corporate, pro-environment rally in Sydney, only to flee after a lone assassin shoots and kills the key speaker. In the days that follow, several of their number meet grim ends and the cops end up sending in long-haired maverick officer Stone (Ken Shorter).

Initially rejected, he's lucky enough to be Johnny-on-the-spot and foil a crossbow attack, winning the trust and, maybe, respect of their charismatic leader Undertaker (director/co-writer Sandy Harbutt).

As Stone is allowed to tag along and investigate the series of killings, which appear to be a clumsy attempt to silence any witnesses to the opening shooting, so he (and we) get a glimpse into early '70s Aussie biker culture and its attendant philosophies of nihilism, self-dependency, loyalty and violence.

A little rough-and-ready around the edges, Stone is presented here in a print restored from vault elements and still packs quite a punch once you let yourself become immersed in its offbeat vibe.

Extras include the excellent documentary Stone Forever, which incorporates archive footage of the making of the film, interviews with cast and crew plus a look at the 25th anniversary celebrations in 1998, which featured 35,000 bikers coming together to pay their respects to the film widely regarded as the 'Bikie's Bible'. There's also a trailer, make-up test, director's slideshow and a making-of.

INKHEART

(Entertainment In Video, PG, retail & rental)

Father and bookbinder Mo Folchart (Brendan Fraser) has kept a terrible secret from his daughter Meggie (Eliza Bennett) since she was three-years-old – he's a Silvertongue who possesses the ability to bring a book to life by simply reading it aloud and he inadvertently sent his beloved wife Teresa (Sienna Guillory) into the pages of one called Inkheart.

In her place, various characters including the villainous Capricorn (Andy Serkis) escaped into this world.

Stumbling upon a tatty old copy of Inkheart, Mo finally believes he could be reunited with Teresa, only to embark on the greatest adventure of his life in the company of a stranger called Dustfinger (Paul Bettany) and the beautiful Elinor Loredan (Helen Mirren).

Inkheart is a fantastical family adventure, based on the bestselling novel by Cornelia Funke about a secret class of people who possess a remarkable gift which might just be a curse.

Iain Softley's film is a fun-filled journey between real and imaginary worlds, with a gentle mix of comedy and action, as Mo and his daughter use the gift they share to reunite their fractured family.

The director marshals a largely British cast for his fast-paced and colourful adaptation, working from a screenplay by David Lindsay-Abaire.

On the acting front, Serkis chews the scenery as the bad guy fascinated by everyday, 21st century objects ("I love duct tape!"), Fraser resorts to his usual but likeable action hero routine, gelling nicely with Bennett's plucky teen and Mirren demonstrates impeccable comic timing as a woman on the edge.

Softley sustains our interest for 101 minutes before an orgy of computer-generated special effects vies for our attention.

Star rating: ★★★

TRANSPORTER 3

(Icon Home Entertainment, 15, retail & rental)

Jason Statham returns as Frank Martin in Olivier Megaton's brawny yet brainless sequel.

Expect car chases and punch-ups galore in this high-octane action movie, where some scenes verge on the ridiculous.

Transporter 3 appropriates an eco-friendly central theme as a hook, but the filmmakers are more interested in orchestrating mayhem than saving the planet.

Frank is sent on a job to pick up Valentina (Natalya Rudakova), the kidnapped daughter of Leonid Vasilev (Jeroen Krabbé), head of the Ukraine's powerful Environmental Protection Agency. However, plans go awry when sparks of passion fly between Frank and Valentina.

Star rating: ★★

MADAGASCAR: ESCAPE 2 AFRICA

(Paramount Home Entertainment, PG, retail & rental)

Alex the lion (voiced by Ben Stiller), Marty the zebra (Chris Rock), Melman the hypochondriac giraffe (David Schwimmer) and Gloria the hippopotamus (Jada Pinkett Smith) are finally ready to leave the exotic island of Madagascar and return to the plush surroundings of New York's Central Park Zoo.

Boarding a rickety plane with lemur King Julien the 13th (scene-stealing Sacha Baron Cohen) and the unhinged kamikaze penguins Private, Rico, Skipper and Kowalski, the animals crashland on the plains of Africa where Alex is reunited with his long lost father Zuba and mother, to the chagrin of Zuba's sworn rival Makunga (Alec Baldwin).

Madagascar: Escape 2 Africa cheekily recycles the plot of The Lion King and a lot of routines from Madagascar but Eric Darnell and Tom McGrath's film runs a little short of the animal magic of the original.

The computer animation is crisp and finely detailed but while it's all pleasing enough for younger viewers, it could have used a few fresher ideas.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Street continue strong end to season

POTTER Street continued their upbeat end to the season with a 3-0 home victory over basement side Faces in the premier division of the Essex Olympian League.

Martin Beard (2) and Rob Campbell netted for the hosts on Saturday. Due to the poor weather in January and February there are still plenty of games to be played in the League.

Street, who are ninth in the 14-team division, still need eight points to avoid the drop.

Two go down and Epping are in real danger of the drop.

The two local teams meet each other at Stonards Hill on Saturday.

Epping stay second from bottom after losing 4-1 at home to Kelvedon Hatch.

Ricky Defreitas scored four goals for Hatch while Taner Erdal netted Epping's consolation.

FEEL THE BYRNE: Hawks new signings Ricky Byrne (S4FVGNKQ-1). Inset, dismissed duo Jamie Richards and Jordan Fowler, bottom

What a Fowl up

Huge drop blow as Alzapiedi's men end with nine!

BAD news came in threes for Harlow Town as Glen Alzapiedi's relegation-threatened side had two players sent off as they slipped to a crucial home defeat against Horsham.

Saturday's setback put a massive dent in Harlow Town's hopes of avoiding the drop but was a

Harlow Tn 0, Horsham 1 (Ryman League, prem div)

also marked by midfielder Jordan Fowler and skipper Jamie Richards being shown red cards.

Harlow were already trailing from the game's sole goal when Fowler was given his marching orders by referee Simon Maynard after he allegedly head-butted Horsham's Darren Budd on 43 minutes.

Richards had an early bath after picking up his second yellow card on 71 minutes for a foul on Budd. Four minutes earlier, Richards had been cautioned for a foul on Alex Haddow.

Hawks boss Alzapiedi had no complaints with the dismissals but was left wondering why Harlow did not play as well with 11 as they did with nine or 10.

He said: "It was similar to the Heybridge Swifts game. We started too slowly and allowed them to take it to us and get ahead. In the last two home games we have been apprehensive and nervous," he said.

"We upped our performance when we went down to 10 and even more when we went down to nine but if you start badly and lose players you are not going to get anything out of it."

With Mark Taylor still sidelined by a hamstring injury, Richards took the captain's armband for Harlow, while striker Chris Ellerbeck returned to the starting eleven following a one-match ban.

Ellerbeck fired over the Horsham bar early on before a Steven Davies shot coaxed a diving save from Hawks keeper James Hasell midway through the first half.

The West Sussex side broke the deadlock in the 31st minute. Russell Eldridge floated the ball into the box and Gary Charman scored with a downward header from six yards out.

Six minutes later, Hasell partially blocked a shot from Claude Seanla, before defender Jon Stevenson cleared the ball away.

Ten-man Harlow came close to equalising on 54 minutes. Hornets' keeper Rob Tolfrey's scuffed clearance went to Tom Bruno, but the retreating stopper managed to backpedal and push the youngster's 40-yard lob over the bar.

Just after the hour mark, Hasell's outstretched foot kept out a Reggie Savage shot.

After Harlow went down to nine, Danny Wolf took over the captaincy.

Despite the two-man disadvantage the hosts looked the more likely to score and substitute striker John Frenndo made Tolfrey make a good save, before the stopper tipped a Bruno free-kick around a post on 85 minutes.

HARLOW TN: Hasell, Byrne (Osei-Owusu, 74), Bardle, Wolf, Stevenson, Bruno, Stewart, Fowler (sent off 43), Richards (sent off 71), Crace, Ellerbeck (Frenndo, 63). Subs not used: Kear, Gliddon, Stone (gk). Att: 370.

Defeat hits Harlow hopes

Late first-half action saw Richards force home keeper Darren Behcet to parry a shot and it was the hosts who started the second half strongly, going ahead on 51 minutes.

Wall robbed Kear and danced past two challenges before crossing from the byline for Dean Green to shoot home from eight yards.

Shaun Gliddon fired against a home post after a corner fell loose just before he was substituted on 61 minutes.

Hawks boss Glen Alzapiedi brought on Chris Ellerbeck in attack and went 3-4-3 with Michael Bardle moving to the left side of midfield from full-back.

Harlow exerted pressure and came closest to scoring when a fierce Berry free-kick forced Behcet to tip over on 72 minutes.

At the other end, Harlow were vulnerable on the counter and Hasell saved a snap shot from sub Andy Tomlinson before Hornchurch grabbed a third.

Wall was allowed too much space and his shot went in off a post in injury-time. Alzapiedi said: "I cannot fault my players' effort. Every one of them gave 100 per cent and we had the bulk of the chances.

"But we need to be more ruthless in both boxes. We should have dealt with their cross for the first goal and you cannot let a player [Wall] turn like he did before their second goal was set up."

Red glum for Hawks

Alzapiedi expects a different threat from the one posed at Hornchurch on Tuesday.

"Hornchurch were the most direct side we have played this season but Carshalton will be a different type of side. They play more football," said Alzapiedi.

Central defender Danny Wolf is ruled out after tearing a muscle in his buttocks during the Haringey game.

Laurie Stewart could be back after missing the clash at Hornchurch with knee problems.

Stewart's return is crucial as he is a composed player on the ball.

"I am hoping to have Laurie back," said Alzapiedi.

Right-back Mark Taylor was an unused substitute at Hornchurch. He has been out for a few games with a hamstring and sciatica problem but should be fully fit for Saturday after coming through a reserve match on Tuesday (see report below).

Reserves go top after beating rivals

LUKE Webster returned to haunt his old side as Harlow Town reserves beat neighbours Bishop's Stortford 3-2 in the Capital League eastern division.

Webster, who left Stortford in the autumn, scored as Harlow went back to the top.

Emmanuel Osei-Owusu gave the visitors a fourth-minute lead, rifling a shot past Erbil Bozkurt in the Stortford goal.

Bozkurt pushed Mark Taylor's shot onto a post before the break.

Webster doubled Harlow's lead on 58 minutes when he lobbed the advancing Bozkurt.

The Hawks made it 3-0 in the 62nd minute when Osei-Owusu finished well from eight yards.

Jimmy Webb slotted in a consolation in the 64th minute.

Blues set up a nervy ending for Harlow when they pulled it back to 3-2 with three minutes to go after substitute Josh Woodcock headed in.

ROMFORD'S bid for the title was held up as they threw away a two-goal advantage in a 2-2 draw at Sawbridgeworth on Tuesday night. Romford are still 10

Robins halt leader's title charge

points clear of Enfield 1893 in the Essex Senior Football League, but the latter have three games in hand.

The visitors went ahead on four minutes through Reece Cosson's close-range finish and doubled their advantage on 29 minutes when James Gammons slotted in. The hosts pulled a goal back when Rob Port scored a freak own goal.

The hosts were rewarded on 82 minutes when Bradley Smith tucked the ball neatly in from eight yards after good work by Conlan and Jim Wyatt.

Helpers make sure ground's in top shape

Cricket

THE young and old of Harlow Cricket Club joined together for the annual NatWest Cricket Force weekend.

Members and supporters of the Marigolds club in Chippingfield Road spent a busy weekend working on projects as diverse as litter picking, re-flooring the changing room on the 3rd/4th XI ground, rebuilding some of the sightcreens and spring cleaning the kitchen.

Christine Baxter, the club's treasurer, said: "Work goes on all year round but the NatWest Cricket Force weekend really focuses members on helping the club in any way that they can. We estimate that what we have achieved has saved the club over £4,000."

● HARLOW'S first team start their new season with a friendly away to Saracens Herts Cricket League division two side Broxbourne this Saturday.

● THE Essex County Cricket Club second team will stage a friendly against Norfolk at Bishop's Stortford Cricket Club this Saturday (11.30am start).

Impressive haul at new destination

Angling

THE Fens in Cambridgeshire was the new destination for Stort Valley Angling Society members in the first coach outing of the season.

In cold and blustery conditions at Ramsay Forty Foot an impressive haul of more than 150lbs of fish were caught by 19 members from the Harlow club.

Carrying on where he left off last season, Danny Cruse weighed in with a creditable mixed bag of just over 22lbs to win the C. Stevens Rose Bowl.

Bob Groom was second with almost 16lbs, just ahead of Kevin Shaw in third place.

Junior member Ryan Head netted a 4lb pike and Colin Cotterell weighed in with a specimen perch which scaled 2lbs 14ozs.

Gary in great Hart as Brighton bid to beat the drop

BRIGHTON & Hove Albion stalwart Gary Hart has pledged to keep his side in League One – and earn himself a new contract.

The 32-year-old Harlow-born striker, made his comeback from six months out with a knee injury when he played in the 3-2 defeat at home to relegation rivals Swindon Town last Saturday.

The ex-Brays Grove pupil also played in his side's crucial 1-0 win at Colchester on Easter Monday.

It has left the Seagulls three points adrift of safety with just four games remaining.

Hart, who watched Harlow Town's FA Cup first round defeat against Macclesfield while on crutches at Barrows Farm in the autumn, is determined to keep the side up after 11 years at the West Sussex club.

He originally joined the club from Essex Senior League minnows Stansted.

He said: "We will survive. The belief is still there. It ain't over until the fat lady sings – and she ain't singing yet."

Speaking prior to the Colchester match he said: "I love this club and feel I will make an impact for the last five games."

"If I'm offered a new contract I'll take it."

Hart has been a huge favourite at the Withdean Stadium and was rewarded for his loyalty with a testimonial last year against Charlton Athletic.

However, he has been dogged by injury this season as the side have struggled at the wrong end of the League One table.

This prompted the departure of Micky Adams as manager. He was replaced by former Yeovil boss Russell Slade in March.

Hawks reach cup last four

HARLOW Hawks are going to have to lift their game substantially if they want to add the Herts League Cup to their league title after a poor performance against Aylesbury Dux in their quarter-final.

Coach Shab Niaz was left fuming after a mediocre performance. "If we play like that against Cambridge in the semi-finals then we are going to get blown away," he said.

"We have to raise our game at least another 2-3 notches if we want to stand any chance winning the league cup."

Harlow will face Ware Jokers in the last four at Wodson Park in Ware this Sunday. The final will take place straight after this match.

Hawks got off to a good start against Aylesbury with Dave Spashett hitting a three-pointer on either side of a Paul

Harlow Hawks 75, Aylesbury Dux 59 (Herts Div One League Cup, quarter-final)

Jessop score that gave them an early lead, but Dux had a 13-2 run to storm ahead.

There was a delay to the action after Spashett sustained a cut eyebrow while defending a Dux fast break and had to leave the court for the rest of the game to attend hospital for treatment.

Amit Sharma replaced him and had an immediate impact scoring eight points in a 10-0 run that gave Hawks the lead again before Dux replied with a pair of scores. Jessop scored inside just before the buzzer to send Hawks into the first break with a slim 26-23 lead.

Lee Jones provided a couple of crucial scores for Hawks to keep the score ticking along before Mark Haddow and Jessop scored to extend the lead to double digits for the first time.

But once again sloppy defence and turnovers from Hawks allowed Dux to close out the second quarter with five unanswered points to reduce Hawks' lead to 42-37.

A Jessop long three-pointer ended a break in scoring before Dux hit back.

The remainder of Hawks' points came from the free-throw line via Jessop and Haddow as Hawks opened up a 58-42 lead.

In the final quarter both teams scored 15 points apiece.

Harlow then pulled away with three-pointers from Jessop and Niaz either side of a Haddow score as Hawks eventually went on to win by 16 points.

Looking forward to the semi-final, Niaz added: "It will be a nice day out for the club and hopefully both teams will get some good support on the day from the rest of the club."

HARLOW HAWKS: Jessop (26 pts), Haddow (12), Sharma (9), Freeman (8), Spashett (6), Niaz (5), Allan (5), Jones (4), Burgess, Moss.

Barks worse than bite as Rams triumph

Youth rugby

HARLOW Rugby Club's Under-14 team won one of their two matches on their tour of Devon Cliffs over the Easter Weekend.

Harlow beat highly-rated Coventry juniors team Barks Butts 10-0.

The Rams led by 5-0 at half-time thanks to a try from skipper Zac Chamnaouie who was playing in an unfamiliar position at prop.

They continued to control the game in the second half and scored their second try through Matt Norris following a flowing backs move.

Harlow had earlier lost 20-12 to a powerful Hazlemere side (Buckinghamshire) in their first game.

Jack Boswell-Banks scored a first-half try for the Rams but their opponents led 20-5 at the break.

Hazlemere scored three tries in the first period, one of which was converted. A penalty was also kicked by the Buckinghamshire team.

Although Harlow dominated the second half they could only score once through Boswell-Banks. Norris kicked the conversion as Harlow lost by eight points.

Harlow U-13s lost all their games but gained valuable experience in playing strong opposition on their Easter tour of Brean Sands in Somerset.

Tom Cunningham scored a try when Harlow lost 29-5 to Hornets RFC from Weston-super-Mare (Somerset).

Lydney (Gloucestershire) beat the Junior Rams 43-0 while Ryan Clark scored for the Essex team when they went down 29-5 to Stafford.

Scott Whitby got the try for Harlow when they went down 44-5 to Pontyberem, from Llanelli in Wales.

On the second day Harlow lost all their matches but Whitby again played well, scoring 19 points with three tries and two conversions in four games.

His haul included a try and a conversion when Harlow lost 17-7 to Lydney. The Rams led 7-5 with five minutes to go against Lydney who then scored two tries to win.

Harlow U-15s had a team building weekend at Southwold in Suffolk.

They were given a rugby coaching session by a Level Three coach before taking part in a series of activities including archery, climbing, quad biking, swimming, ten pin bowling and shooting.

Defeat hits Harlow hopes

THE Hawks emerged from the Easter programme empty-handed and much closer to relegation as they slipped to their second defeat in three days when they lost at AFC Hornchurch on Monday.

Sam Berry was recalled to Harlow's midfield after a four-match suspension but Laurie Stewart was ruled out with a knee injury.

Both teams struggled for control in a scrappy opening which saw neither keeper having to make a serious save.

Harlow were down to 10 temporarily as Jordan Fowler required treatment for a cut head when they went ahead on 26 minutes.

A corner from the right went to the far edge of the box and Jamie Richards played it back before it was cleared to Tom Bruno whose superb 25-yard volley flew into the far corner. Paul Kear replaced centre-half Danny Wolf (muscle injury) before the Urchins equalised on 38 minutes. A cross from the right was half cleared and played back in by Elliot Styles before Mervin Abraham's lob resulted in Hawks keeper James Hasell backpedalling but he could only push the ball behind him and into the net.

DISMISSED:
 Jamie Richards is sent off against Horsham on Saturday (S4FVGNKC-12)

Hawks count cost of dismissals as drop looms

GLEN Alzapiedi will be without two of his most experienced players in midfielder Jordan Fowler and striker Jamie Richards for the Hawks' crucial last league match at home to Tooting & Mitcham United in nine days' time.

The stakes could not be higher.

Harlow Town must win this clash and also triumph at Carshalton Athletic this Saturday to give themselves any hope of survival in the Ryman League premier division.

They will also need other results to go their way so there is no room for slip-ups.

Alzapiedi, the Harlow Town manager, was resigned to being without Richards after he was sent off following two yellow cards in the Hawks' 1-0 defeat against Horsham five days ago.

Alzapiedi had hoped to appeal against the sending off of Jordan Fowler in the same match for an alleged headbutt. This was in the hope that the ban could be delayed until next season.

However, Hawks secretary Jim Aldridge said this was rejected by the FA on Tuesday.

He said: "We cannot appeal. We could appeal to the FA if we had video evidence but we do not have that. Jordan will miss the last game of this season and the first two of next season."

Before Harlow worry about their last game they must concentrate on beating fifth-placed Carshalton who are yet to secure a play-off spot.
